My Respected Mother-in-law

Preface

This book contains some of my few thoughts previously written based on social, economical and political issues. I was highly motivated in Economics during doing Ph.D. at Vanderbilt University, USA. It was my fascination to reveal the actuality of Economics. This book is an attempt to bring in some specific recommendations to promote the socio-political economics in Bangladesh in particular.

This book itself implies a much wider range of ideas and topics that are included in Socio-Political Economy, considered as a branch of abstract conjecture. For practical purposes, Socio-Political Economy is inseparably knotted with many other branches of Social Philosophy. Except on matters of mere details, there are possibly no practical questions, even among those which approach nearest to the character of mixed economical questions, which admit of being decided on economical premises alone.

According to Gary S. Becker, “Economy is the art of making the most of life”. So, my aim is to bring social, political and economical prosperity of a country especially Bangladesh. Moreover, I try to connect between marriage and economics through the theory of marriage. I think my earnest effort to discuss the bureaucratic constraints to development and its remedy according to ‘Flexism Theory’. However, all these will be an added characteristic in discussing economical development of a country.

Acknowledgement

My sincerest gratitude goes to Almighty for His kindness to allow me to write this book. I could never have done this work of writing without the faith I have in the Almighty.

It is the great opportunity to thank my wife Eaysmin Ara Lekha, and my two sons Nabid Aziz and Abid Aziz who always motivate me in every possible ways and means to writing.

I thank to Prof. Faez M. Serajul Hoque, Adviser of Uttara University for his time-to-time encouragement. I thank Mr. Mahmudul Kabir and Mr. Alamgir Ziban, Assistant Research Officer at the beginning for their relentless effort in editing and developing the book.

At last but not the least, I appreciate Mr. Mohammad Rokanuzzaman, Assistant Registrar (Research & Publication) for his wholehearted and relentless effort including editing and reviewing the manuscript.
