

Political Assimilation

Strikes and demonstration is a practice of opposition.

The government and the other politics are in contradiction.

Whatever they do, the party-in-power is in a state of inhibition.

Contradiction arises between inter - and-intra party division.

Political differences in opinion put a bunch of limitation.

Division-subdivision between parties provides a poor evaluation.

Party in power is responsible to fulfill the commitment before termination.

Political individuals must be smart with proper education.

It is important to have a discussion for political collaboration.

To furnish something efficiently, we need a political co-ordination.

Government is responsible to complete its job with concentration.

To decrease unemployment, it is important to create jobs and vocation.

Good performance and delivery of service are indispensable.

Government & politicians are both responsible and accountable.

So, let the politicians not to have too many divisions.

They must be aware about increasing welfare as its profession.

Then, they can be found acceptable in their political evaluation.

Prof. Dr. M. Azizur Rahman
Vice-Chancellor
Uttara University