

Political Economy

Opposition gets always busy for strike.

For a move, transports and everything is in strive.

Police is busy to restrain from being destructive.

Police help themselves wearing helmet to be protective.

Incurring losses by demonstration goes against any strive.

The nation has to spend a lot to get its wealth revived.

Right-wing government maintains a policy of expansion.

Left-wing government takes the policy of contraction.

A huge section of people suffer from malnutrition.

Fixed income people hate to see any kind of inflation.

With contractual policy, the economy suffers from stagnation.

Profit and utility maximization is the people's mission and vision.

Objective can be achieved if it is correct in making political decision.
